Pastor: Chet Johnson

Greetings from North Carolina and your neighborhood Missionary.

Church: July is certainly a different type of July. Normally there are Camps, Barbeques and Community events. In the past several years by this time we would be ramping up for school to start back by hosting a large Back to School Bash to hand out school supplies while hosting a Date night and provide childcare for parents so they can have a night out before school returns. This year we didn't have all of that, but what we did have was AMAZING fourth of July get together. We met at a church members home and we had games, water slides and of course food and fellowship. It was much needed for all of our people but also was great for outreach. There were two families that attended the Independence Day celebration that I have never met, and they were excited to see that we were still meeting together as a church and said that they would attend services.

One family has attended a couple times and we were excited to see them and have them come and worship with us. We are still only hosting Sunday Morning Worship in person and our attendance has maintained 20 since we have started back in person with an online presence of 15-20.

Our Wednesday Night Bible Studies are still hosted online through zoom and we normally have 15-20 that join. Even though we aren't in person our people seem to really be hungry for this bible study time, so it's very excited as a pastor. North Carolina still has a lot of restrictions in place due to Covid. As of the last directive from the Governor, we are remaining in phase 2 until the end August but we will probably remain in phase two until November unless numbers drastically improve.

Family: When summer ends also ends Mom's (Jenna's) summer. Jenna is back to work because she works in the school system. Emmitt will be returning back to his School/Daycare at the end of August and I had the honor to preach a missions revival at Bistineau Baptist Church, Pastor Richard Methvin. It was very encouraging to fellowship with them and exciting to see people anxious about mission work. While in Louisiana, we had the opportunity to visit Eastside (Our sending church) and I had the privilege to preach. It was the love, support and warm hugs that was the great punctuation we needed as a family to come back to Fayetteville to continue ministry.

As a family we are doing good, traveling and seeing family through the summer was very needed and encouraging amidst all the chaos going on around us. We are looking forward to seeing how God is going to lead us to continue ministry here in Fayetteville and are very positive of doors that are being open to us.

Please continue to pray and we thank you for all of your support.

Until Next time,

I'm Mike Jones and I approve this Message. #FayettevilleMissionary2020
