Lockdown Returns

Beginning tomorrow, Nov 20, 2020 Colorado will be moving to level red on the COVID scale. (Safe at home.) Because of this, we will be limited in many areas, including worship services. This is going to present many challenges concerning new families I have been inviting. Also, as I have stated in the past, the majority of people in attendance are teens who are friends of my daughter and son. Because COVID cases are on a sharp increase in the school system, every one of the kids is currently in some stage of a 14 day quarantine. This past Sunday, it was just our family in attendance.

A few ways I am trying to navigate this unfortunate circumstance is

1. I am filming short video lessons I am sending to everyone for personal study. We are currently finishing up in Proverbs.
2. I am sending everyone a copy of the "Left Behind" series in anticipation of our next study on Revelation. The kids have taken a particular interest in end time events over the last few months. There is almost zero collective knowledge among them concerning the return of Christ and the events that follow. I have instructed them to watch the series to gain a VERY GENERAL understanding. We will get into the specifics and theology when we start the study. I am very excited to start this series because I have been asked a ton of questions! Please pray I can present in a way they can remain engaged and remain enthusiastic about learning.
3. I am currently researching the best and most cost effective camera or multimedia tools I can use to start having live or virtual services for the people I have invited who cannot attend right now.

Our football season has come to a sudden and abrupt end. This past Friday night was our last regular season game. We won to finish the regular season at 5-1 and qualified to make the 8 team playoff for the state of Colorado. During the game, one of our players left the game with a concussion, and was taken to an urgent care facility to be checked out. Because of current health regulations, a COVID test was mandatory before treatment. We found out Monday morning that he tested positive even though he had zero symptoms and said he was feeling good as usual. Because of that, our whole team was mandated to enter a 14 day quarantine period. The playoff schedule had just been released and we were forced to forfeit the game. I was on a team zoom meeting with 87 kids when they were told the news. The looks on their faces was absolutely heartbreaking! I have had several reach out to me and I have contacted several to check on them and see where they were at in life with everything. I have had some very hard and honest conversations over the last week! The one thing I stress to every one of them is having a personal relationship with Jesus Christ and for those who do have one, I stress to them their identity MUST be in Him. I leave them with the thought that football is NOT who you are, it is one of the things you do.
