Sunday Morning 7

The year 2020 has had many challenges for sure but, Many blessings also.

The challenges have been many, but none as personal and devastating as the last few weeks. During this time, ANOTHER one of my daughter's friends from her previous school tried committing suicide, my cousin passed away from Lukemia, another friend lost his 2 year long battle with brain cancer, another friend passed from Covid and my son's friend Zalix lost his father to a sudden and unexpected death.

My daughter's friend Ashlyn from her previous school tried committing suicide at the beginning of December. Thankfully, she did not succeed! She and her parents are currently in counseling.

As I have mentioned in previous newsletters, continue praying for my son's friend Zalix. He has had an absolutely horrible year. When he woke up on December 22, he went down stairs to find that his dad had passed away during the night. He is currently in Indiana burying his father. When he returns, the future is very uncertain for him. His mother is currently still under house arrest and living in a half-way house. She has applied for a hardship release and is still awaiting final approval. In case her hardship is not approved (we are praying it is!) my wife and I have begun the process of being certified by the state of Colorado as foster parents. In that situation, we would then become Zalix' foster parents until he turns 18.

Some of the greatest blessings from 2020 were seeing Taylor Heartman and Cam Xiong come to a saving knowledge and profession of faith in Christ as their savior. The loving support shown to Zalix Croix and his mother this year during her incarceration was also a huge blessing. Thanks to generous offerings from my sending church, Eastside missionary Baptist, we were able to provide needed Bibles for Zalix' mother and other women in prison. Through this and much prayer, I have seen tremendous growth in both Zalix and his mother. She was even released to a halfway house in late October...3 months earlier than expected! Even through the death of her husband, she and Zalix have shown great spiritual maturity and understanding.

Prior to his passing, we had been praying as a family for direction and clarity for our continued ministry here in Colorado. After Zalix' dad passed both of my kids, along with Zalix told me separately the answer was clear! We are needed here for such a time as this! Thank you Jesus for your clarity and continuing guidance!

Another blessing in disguise was that through the pandemic, we were still able to meet (more personally and intimately) with the small number of teens we had. We did not grow numerically, but we definitely grew spiritually with what God placed before us!

Thank you all who have supported us through prayer and financial giving this past year. Also, to those churches and individuals who gave love offerings to us over the Holidays. Your support is what has enabled us to continue advancing the kingdom and make a difference in lives for the cause of Christ here in Colorado.

Sincerely:
The Brown family
